After our review of the syllabus, you will understand the following:

1. You must have an email address. If you do not have an email address, please contact the Ranger College IT department.
2. If you are going to be absent for any reason, it is up to you to get any notes from that day's lecture. Do not email me and say, "I was gone yesterday. Did I miss anything?" The answer is always yes, you missed something. Please ask your classmates for their notes.
3. All assignments are due on the day they're given; they will be completed during class. These must be emailed to me or submitted in hardcopy on the same day they're assigned.
4. Papers emailed or handed in the next day are considered late. Late papers receive a one letter-grade deduction if received within one week of the due date. Papers more than one week late will not be accepted.
5. School-related events are not reasons to turn in papers late. You know about your events ahead of time; if you know you're going to be gone on essay day, email me.
6. Please do not talk during class or play with your phone.

IX. Methods of Assessment

We will write two or three essays (100 points each), take three (3) quizzes (100 points each), and take two exams, the mid-term and the final (200 points each). Additional, we may complete a few small assignments (10 points each) during class.

To pass the class, the student must achieve at least a 60% overall grade and they must pass the final exam.

Each of these assessments addresses one or more of the Core Objectives: Critical Thinking Skills (CT), Communication Skills (COM), Empirical and Quantitative Skills (EQS), Teamwork (TW), Personal Responsibility (PR), Social Responsibility (SR).

Quizzes (CT): Three (3) quizzes will reflect the adequate completion of assignments.

These essays are evaluated by the ability to develop a thesis statement in the introduction, support the thesis statement in the body, and demonstrate unity and focus. These essays will demonstrate the student's proper use of grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, and spelling. The assignments will be composed during allocated time periods.

Mid-Term Exam; Final Exam (CT, COM): The student must pass the final exam in order to pass the course.

Quick-writing assignments: Students will write every day in class, based on provided prompts. These "quick-writes" can be submitted at the end of the term for additional points on the final exam.
